

ARMY MANEUVERS

Kentucky Militia to Join With Four Other States.

The militia division of the War Department, in arranging for spring maneuvers for various State militia, has ordered that the militia of Kentucky, Alabama, Tennessee and Mississippi, constituting the Tenth division, will meet at some central point for maneuvers, the point to be selected by General Evans, in charge of the division.

The Naked Question.

The first real encouragement that the opponents of the Democratic party have found since the inauguration of Woodrow Wilson is offered by the present contention over the repeal of the canal tolls exemption.

The discipline, harmony and efficiency with which the Democrats disappointed expectations through the difficult constructive work of tariff and currency legislation have constituted the surprise of modern political history. And as great a surprise now develops in the fact that having triumphed in that work it should be split over such a question as ship subsidies, and that such a split should be led by Democratic captains like Oscar Underwood and Champ Clark.

It was to be expected that the O'Gormans and Fitzgeralds would be lined up for the Lewis Nixons and their Shipping Trust, but that the Underwoods and Clarks should line up with them simply flabbergasts the rank and file of the Democrats "back home." They can't understand at all.

For the naked question, after all is said, is whether we shall subsidize the Shipping Trust, and Democrats have so long been taught to despise such a proposition as a heresy to their faith, that they are rubbing their dazed eyes at sight of any of their trusted leaders deserting that faith.

The issue cannot be confused or obscured by all the verbal sophistry which will mark the discussion in Congress this week. It is simply whether we shall maintain the policy of ship subsidies at the expense of the taxpayers and whether in order to do this we shall break our treaty obligations. The latter are clear—as clear as the English language can make them—and the attempt to give any other construction to the terms of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty is the merest quibbling, contemptible to straight-forward minds and morals. But even were it otherwise—even if there were nothing in the treaty to commit us to free tolls—the question would still remain as inescapable as ever:

Are we going to adopt the undemocratic policy of ship subsidies? And, are Democrats going to assume responsibility for that policy?—Courier-Journal.

MRS. WILLIAMS' LONG SICKNESS

Yields To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elkhart, Ind.:—"I suffered for fourteen years from organic inflammation, female weakness, pain and irregularities. The pains in my sides were increased by walking or standing on my feet and I had such awful bearing down feelings, was depressed in spirits and became thin and pale with dull, heavy eyes. I had six doctors from whom I received only temporary relief. I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial and also the Sensitive Wash. I have now used the remedies for four months and cannot express my thanks for what they have done for me.

"If these lines will be of any benefit you have my permission to publish them."—Mrs. SADIE WILLIAMS, 455 James Street, Elkhart, Indiana.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Child Attacked and Beaten.

A little son of Mr. George Jake, who was attacked and mistreated by a negro Saturday afternoon, is slowly recovering from his injuries. The boy, a little fellow about nine years old, had been to the picture show and was returning to his father's home at the water works plant, when he met a negro on the L. & N. railroad on his way home, who beat and choked him and inflicted some severe injuries. The boy was able to go on home, but a physician had to be called to attend him.

Oldest Salt Cellar.

A silver salt cellar from the late Lord Ashburnham's collection was sold for $8,000 at Christie's auction rooms in London. The treasure, which dates from the period of Henry VII., is believed to be the earliest standing salt cellar in existence. Its height with the cover is 12 1/2 inches but it weighs only sixty-eight ounces. A pair of Charles II. bottles fetched at the same sale $14,500.

Home building should begin now, when money can be gotten for the purpose, by becoming a member of the Hopkinsville Building & Loan Association. Office at First National Bank.

TOBACCO MARKET.

Not Much Change in Condition This Week.

There was little change in the condition of the local tobacco market this week over that of the week before. Owing to weather conditions in the early part of the week there was a falling off in receipts but they are expected to increase as the days go by until all of the crop of 1913 has been delivered.

Lippincott's and Spring.

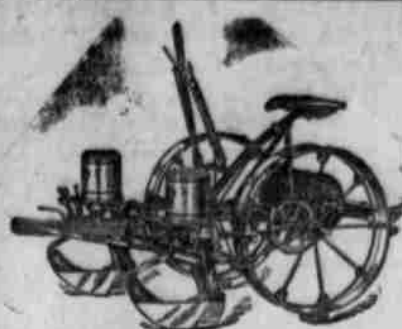

The April Lippincott's makes its appearance March 21st, the day when Spring is officially ushered in. Clear and breezy are its contents, full of the joyous zest characteristic of this season of growth. As usual, there is a complete novel—a remarkable tale of France in the days of Madame du Barry. "The Presentation" is its title, and H. de Vere Stapcoole, the author. Stapcoole will be remembered as the writer of "The Blue Lagoon," "The Crimson Azalea," "Molly Beamish," and other highly praised books. The plot of his new story has to do with the presentation of Du Barry at court, and the efforts of her enemies to prevent it. There is a dash and alacrity about it which remind one of Dumas at his best.

Averaged 1000 Pounds.

Messrs. Edgar A. Hail and W. R. and W. W. Dudley, prominent farmers south of town, shipped from Pembroke Tuesday probably the finest bunch of cattle that has gone from this county in many years. There were thirty head in the lot and the weight aggregated just a little less than 30,000 pounds. They were of the Shorthorn and Hereford breeds, uniform in age, size and color, and first-class in every way. They were raised and fed mostly by Mr. Hail, W. B. and O. D. Massie. The shipment went to the St. Louis market.—Pembroke Journal.

Going to Europe.

Mrs. Roy McKinney, of Paducah, formerly State Regent of the U. D. C. will shortly go abroad and will caperone five young ladies, on a three months trip.

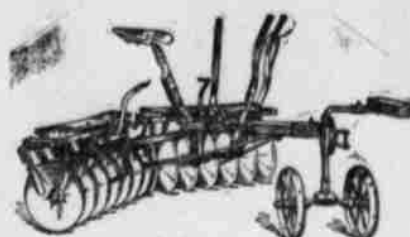

THREE GRAINS IN THE HILL

WITH THE

John Deere Corn Planter

Not three in one hill, one in the next and five in the third, but three grains in every hill, almost invariably. Accuracy in drop is the vital point about your corn planter. If you don't put it in the hill you won't make a good yield. The accuracy of the planter results in the farmer getting the best use out of all his land. You waste time cultivating a crop that is only half a stand. In addition to its accuracy, it is a durable planter, light draft and easy to handle. This planter furnished with open or closed wheels and with fertilizer attachment. Ask us for our free 36-page book, "More Corn and Better."

The John Deere Flexible Disc Harrow

To do GOOD work and be DURABLE seems to us strong points on the disc harrow question. Good work demands a harrow that pulverizes the ground thoroughly, that cuts out the dead furrows, that adapts itself to any uneven condition of the ground. To be durable a harrow must have a STRONG FRAME, STEEL SHANKS, 7-8 GANG BOLT, heavy gauge discs, and general construction throughout that leaves no room for question. The JOHN DEERE has these. If you are in the market for a Disc Harrow, be sure to see this harrow at our store.

To The Public.

In regard to the Fire and Tornado Insurance business. The matter seems to grow more complicated every day. Insurance is something that is absolutely necessary in business, and otherwise. Some insure from necessity, others insure for the gratification of being protected. Some know that it is a hard matter to get insurance under the present circumstances, others think that matters will adjust themselves in due time, but when, we nor no one else knows. We are not alarmists, nor do we put this before the public for self aggrandizement or profit, we only want to remind the public who wants or may want insurance that they had better place it now. There are only six companies left in the city, two of which we have the good fortune to represent at present, but we don't know when they will withdraw. If you want insurance, look to your interest and get it now.

It is better to be safe than sorry.
